

"I buy the best meat here!"

In well over fifty years of marketing and homemaking, the finest meats I've found anywhere are at Food Giant! When all of my family (including five great grandchildren) gathers at our home, I depend upon the wonderful meat that I buy here at Food Giant to help me turn the trick of hearing, "Grandma's cooking is the best!"

Graduate Night Courses Offered by University

Three graduate night courses in education will be offered in Torrance this fall by the University of Southern California.

"Curriculum Laboratory in Elementary Education" will be taught by Dr. Donald Wilson, associate professor of education at USC, on Thursdays from 4 to 7 p.m., beginning Sept. 27. The class will meet in the conference room of the Torrance Education Materials Building, 2334 Plaza del Amo.

"Laboratory Seminar in Elementary School Art" will meet in the cafeteria of the Fern Avenue School, 1314 Fern Ave. This two-unit class will meet on Mondays from 4 to 6 p.m., beginning Oct. 1.

"Problems in Curriculum Construction Art" will also meet in the Fern Ave. School cafeteria. It will meet from 4 to 6 p.m. on Tuesdays beginning Oct. 2.

Both art courses will be taught by Dr. Vincent Lander, USC associate professor of education and fine arts. "Abnormal Psychology" will be taught on Thursdays from 7 to 10 p.m., beginning Sept. 27. The three-unit course will be taught by Dr. Frank Risch, clinical psychologist with the Veterans Administration, in the auditorium of the Harbor General Hospital, 1124 W. Carson St., Torrance.

Registration and payment of tuition will take place at the first class meetings. Textbooks, if needed, will be sold at that time.

World War II, Korean and California veterans may enroll upon presentation of proper credentials. California State veterans must present or have on file an authorization certificate issued for the fall semester, 1962.

Further information may be obtained by writing to the Community Service Division, University of Southern California, University Park, Los Angeles 7.

Bank Manager Attends Class

Bruce Jones, manager of Bank of America's Torrance branch, this week is attending the Pacific Coast Banking School's commercial division at the University of Washington under a grant from the Bank of America-Giannini Foundation.

Established under terms of the will of the late A. P. Giannini, founder of Bank of America, the foundation's awards are made to those who demonstrate an aptitude for advanced studies in the field of finance.

Jones, who has attended the school during two previous summers, will complete the three-year course with this session.
